

Centrestage Theatre Sponsorship

10,000 theatre goers applaud boisterously every year

60,000 volunteer hours are clocked up annually. Washing windows, ushering, cleaning, building, serving, box office, ironing, sewing buttons, dragging sets into place...

5,500 hot drinks are sipped in the theatre foyer every year. (We haven't counted the cold beverages!)

Affordable ticket prices.

A place where people fly. Literally! Children to elderly drama classes, brass bands to rock musicals, local school productions to professional arts companies, one-person shows – it all happens here.

Centrestage Theatre - your vibrant community theatre and a registered charity.

Thank you for raising your hand and letting us know you are keen to become involved in making Centrestage Theatre, the most vibrant theatre north of the bridge.

And what a time to become involved! With an explosive population growth, increased theatre hiring, the biggest drama classes we have ever experienced, sell-out shows and a new rehearsal space in action ... we are excited by the prospect of turning more and more people onto the thrill and sheer joy of the theatre; either on the stage or as a theatre-goer.

We're committed to keeping our ticket prices affordable and our performances extraordinary which means we need to support our box office income through ownership and individual giving. A ticket only goes so far.

Which is why we need your help.

Centrestage Heroes – your chance to step into the Spotlight.

Our Heroes are passionate organisations or individuals who believe in our work and feel strongly about encouraging the creative, performing arts culture housed in our amazing theatre on the Hibiscus Coast.

They are our extended family. They attend, contribute, congratulate, share our mission and cheer us on.

Where would we be without them?

Ross McKellar

Stephanie and Ross have over 65 years combined experience in the professional world of Dramatic Arts. They met while training at drama school and were married soon afterwards. They have a proven track record producing top quality theatre-in-education, directorships of the Auckland Youth Theatre & Drama School, The Other Company and Fantail Farm Productions; roles as directors and actors in most of New Zealand's professional theatre companies, 15 years as heads of acting and spoken voice on NZ's music theatre degree course at NASDA in Christchurch, in addition to multiple appearances on NZ film and television. They both come from community theatre backgrounds and strongly believe in the positive effects a vibrant, supportive performing arts hub has on local communities, fostering creative opportunities for local talent and strengthening community connection and identity.

The Backstory

Centrestage Theatre Company ('CTC'), started out as United Players (Orewa) in 1959. It is a not-for-profit amateur theatre company, registered charity and community-centered organisation with some 300 members.

CTC produces five to six shows a year and provides a wide range of opportunities for members of the public to become engaged in creative and collaborative activities with others in the community. Centrestage Theatre itself was completed in 1990 and extended in 2015 with new rehearsal and workshop spaces, and is the only fully-configured purpose-built performing arts facility between Takapuna and Whangarei.

CTC is an independent organisation and is situated at Centreway Road in Orewa on land leased from the Council.

The Theatre's 210 seat auditorium is fully-equipped with a large stage, fly tower, orchestra pit, lighting box and raked seating.

The theatre building is the responsibility of Orewa Theatre Trust which is responsible for the administration of the theatre including venue hire, maintenance of equipment, and stage productions. As a piece of the greater Auckland performing arts community, Centrestage is an important community hub in our rapidly expanding part Auckland with many families new to the area enjoying what the Hibiscus Coast, and what Centrestage has to offer.

Throughout the year, we seat more than 10,000 theatre goers, clock up over 60,000 volunteer hours, pour over 5500 cups of tea and present a myriad of performing arts from children's drama classes, to musicals, brass bands to craft festivals, local school productions to showcasing visiting professional arts companies - all in the true spirit of a vibrant community theatre.
